College Visits: Reps seeking virtual visits

The absence of the typical fall in school college visits has left college admission counselors scrambling for ways in which to interact with SPCPA students in small groups and/or one on one. The information on this page includes representatives (look at email for school name) who have expressed a sincere interest in learning more about you and in sharing more about their institutions. They’d be here in person if they could. If you think you’d have attended their session and would like to know more, email them and ask if they’d be willing to speak with you via phone or another method of their choice. The email doesn't have to be any more elaborate than:

"Hi ______(Ms./Mr. Last Name)_____

I’m _____(full name)_____ a ___(junior/senior)__ at the Saint Paul Conservatory for Performing Artists in Minnesota. My College Counselor, Ms. Green, shared your contact information with me as I’m very interested in learning more about _____(college name)_____. Is there a convenient time for me to speak with you or someone else in Admissions about my interest in ______(major, activity, etc)______ at _____(college name)______? I’m available most days ______(around, after, before, etc)___(time).

Thank you for considering my request,

_____(first name)_____

What should I ask a college representative (continued)?

- What kind of opportunities exist for undergraduates to work on research or academic projects with professors?
- What kind of internships are available? Do a lot of students get internships?
- Are any departments known for their contribution to research?
- Do any majors prepare students to continue as researchers in a Master’s or doctoral program?
- Are study abroad programs popular? Any ones in particular?
- Do most students study abroad on a program through the school or an external program?
- Do students of certain majors, like engineers, find it difficult to study abroad?
- Are there internship opportunities abroad?
- Are there opportunities through the school for summer internships or research? What are some of the most popular extracurriculars and why?
- What clubs or other opportunities exist for community service?
- Do sports play a large role on campus? What divisions are the sports teams? What about intramurals or exercise classes?
- Can you talk about the fill-in-the-blank club? (Examples might include the student newspaper, student magazine, international relations clubs, art groups, science clubs, musical performances, plays, bands, ensembles...whatever you're interested in!)
- In what ways do students connect with and volunteer in the surrounding community?
